With more than 50 years of space sector heritage, a rare mix of end-to-end capabilities and a global reputation for research and innovation, few areas can rival the UK's south-central region for space expertise.

Comprising Hampshire, Surrey and the Isle of Wight, we're home to more than 120 space-related businesses, from global heavyweights to exciting start-ups, and the world-class universities of Portsmouth, Southampton and Surrey.

Space South Central is a UK Space Agency-funded organisation that represents and connects this thriving hub of space business and innovation. Acting as a gateway, we're making it easier than ever before to access the information, people, technology and vision needed to drive your project forward.

“Space South Central exemplifies the vision set out in the National Space Strategy of a sector working together across the country to showcase UK skills and capabilities, catalyse investment, and enhance our international reputation as a hub of expertise and innovation.”

How we can help you

Space South Central is the gateway to help you find the right people and organisations for your project. From recommending an individual manufacturer to bringing together large-scale collaborative R&D or launch projects, we unite industrial networks, academic partnerships and funding streams.

Outside the UK? We also have links to UK government bodies like the Department of Trade and Industry, which can offer tailored advice about investing and trading in the UK.

CONNECTIONS YOU CAN TRUST

Space South Central provides impartial, informed connections to boost space industry collaborations, innovation and growth. The businesses, universities and organisations we represent don't pay for introductions or membership, and neither do organisations interested in working with them.
